Call for Submissions

Showcase Your Successful Pharmacy Practice Innovations

Showcase your pharmacy practice innovations at JFPS 2019, October 27-30, 2019 in Dallas.

Be part of something great! PharmTalk, APhA's dynamic education platform, showcases the latest innovative ideas created and developed by pharmacists for pharmacists.

PharmTalk sessions are TED-style talks that feature a 10-minute presentation of an innovation followed by a 5-minute Q&A to create an interactive session. Click here for an example of a PharmTalk presentation.

APhA is currently accepting applications for JFPS 2019 PharmTalks. Submit your application at <https://apha.secure-platform.com/a/solicitations/home/1276> by Friday, June 28.

Topic areas include:

- Clinical Pharmacy
- Patient Care Services
- Pharmacy Operations/Readiness
- Technology
- Emerging Topics

Submissions must be received by Friday, June 28, 2019.

Submissions must include the following sections:

Title

Background: Describe relevant background information that demonstrates the need for your innovation. Focus on needs that are specific to your practice site and/or patient population rather than broadly describing national issues.

Description of the activity: Describe the development and implementation of your innovation, including details such as practice setting(s), patient population(s), and daily operations.

Program Assessment/Outcomes/Improvement: Describe the process for assessment and quality improvement, including goals of your innovation and/or outcomes achieved.

Financial Viability: Describe the business model for how the service is funded and/or expenses are justified (specific dollar amounts are not required).

Future Directions: Describe future goals of your innovation.

Click here to complete your submission by Friday, June 28, 2019. Only one submission per candidate is allowed. Submissions that best fit the vision for each session will be accepted for presentation. This is a voluntary presentation and participants are responsible for their own expenses; no honorarium is provided.

Submission status and instructions for preparing your presentation will be sent in August to the email address provided on the submission.
